

GIVE ME A LIFT

Along the highways day and night-time, strange men rush out from the side of the roadway, hold up their hand and shout: "Give us a ride?"—and before you can stop, a stranger is on the running board. On the way to Rye Wednesday evening the writer was accosted in the above manner. Women drivers have reported as being badly frightened by the way they have been approached on the road. Better take precaution, as the daily news stories contain stories of "hold ups," robberies and car thefts. The other day on a public highway a stranger given a ride, took a club from his hip pocket and cracked his benefactor on the head and made off with the auto.

FIVE CHILDREN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH DURING STORM

All Rendered Unconscious When Lightning Enters Home of George Rumford at Rye Beach—Sole of Shoe Torn From Boy's Foot

Five children, one a year old baby, Geo. Goodwin, and a woman had a narrow escape from instant death at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Rumford on the South Road at Rye Beach during the thunder shower on Thursday forenoon. They were all more or less injured by lightning.

When the lightning entered the house, Mrs. Rumford, Thelma Goodwin, aged 8, Percy Rumford 10, Dorothy Brown 7, Sadie Brown 15 and the baby were seated in the center of the kitchen. The bolt entered through the floor tearing away the wood and carpet and knocking the children unconscious in all directions. Mrs. Rumford who was dazed by the shock, gave first attention to the baby who, she thought was dead. She rushed the infant into the open air and called in some neighbors, thinking that the house would break out in flames any minute, but no fire followed.

The escape of Percy Rumford was a miracle. The sole of one shoe was torn from his foot and he was burned on both legs. Thelma Goodwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Goodwin, was burned in the same manner. Dorothy Brown was slightly burned and Sadie Brown badly knocked. The Brown children are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Brown who live across the road from the Rumford family. When the storm was approaching they went to the Rumford home and while there lightning struck the Brown house but caused only slight damage.

Dr. D. C. McLachlan treated the children who are still confined to their beds today.

TWO ROBBERS FALL TO DEATH

(By Associated Press)
New York, July 18—Two hold up men were killed early today when they fell from the roof of a six-story Harlem tenement building to which they fled after robbing a taxicab driver. Two others who took part in the robbery escaped. The two men who were killed attempted to leap from the roof of the tenement to the roof of an adjoining building but they misjudged the distance and plunged to their death. They only obtained $4 from the taxicab driver.

FOUR OLYMPIC EVENTS DROPPED

Paris, July 18—The congress of the International Amateur Athletic Federation today ratified seven world records and 12 Olympic records made during the recent track and field events and eliminated four events from future Olympic programs. The events eliminated are the pentathlon, the 1000 meter walk, the 300 meter walk and the 10,000 meter cross country run.

MISSING BRITISH FLIERS ARE SAFE

FOUR INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Reckless Driving Said to be Cause of On Lafayette Road

An auto with Mrs. Francis J. Brooks, Charles Wingate of Ogunquit and Alphonso M. Ayer of 16 Hanson avenue Dover, was in collision with another car in which E. Morgan, W. Clark, W. L. Clark, Lawrence Dow and William Mates of this city were riding on the Lafayette road on Thursday afternoon. The accident happened near the Portsmouth line.

The car with the Ogunquit people on the way to Rye, is said to have attempted to "cut in" and the driver, not being able to make it quickly, applied his brakes causing the car to skid on the slippery highway and crash directly into a smaller car on the way to Portsmouth. Four of the passengers were injured. Morgan was cut about the legs. Mates received cuts and bruises on one leg with possible other injuries. Wingate suffered a severe scalp wound and Mrs. Brooks a broken wrist. They were treated at the Portsmouth Hospital with the exception of Mrs. Brooks, who was hurried to her home in another car. Mr. Wingate is still at the hospital.

WHEELER WILL AID L'FOLLETTE

Washington, July 17—Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana bolted the Democratic ticket yesterday announcing at the same time that he would support Senator LaFollette for President.

This is the first important defection from the Democratic ranks and serves to complicate the Democratic situation in the Northwest, where the radical Progressive forces are said to have many recruits and where Senator Wheeler has influence in farm and labor councils.

"I cannot consistently support John W. Davis for President," said Senator Wheeler, "but, on the other hand I can consistently support Senator LaFollette and shall do so."

"When the Democratic party goes to Wall street for its candidate, I must refuse to go with it. The nomination of Mr. Davis was brought about in the hope it would make possible a big campaign fund, and as a result of this nomination, the Democratic party, in my opinion, has forfeited any right it may have to support of the progressive Democrats."

Mr. Wheeler declared he would not accept the second place on the LaFollette ticket if it were offered to him.

WHEAT JUMPS ON CANADIAN REPORT

Manchester, July 17.—Steady employment for Manchester's 14,000 textile operatives during the winter is forecast as a result of the first sign of improvement in the textile industry, experienced in more than a year.

Amoskeag Manufacturing Company stock jumped six points Monday on the Boston Stock Exchange while other textile shares made lesser gains.

"It is an axiom among those close to the security markets that stock prices begin to rise in anticipation of improvement in business," the Boston News Bureau says today. "They do not wait until better business is actually translated into orders, but begin to reflect the approach of such a situation, often at a time when the immediate outlook seems most unfavorable."

"Such condition well indicates the position of textile stocks. Following an extended decline which has brought the average price of mill shares to less than half of the 1920 peak and even below the low point in 1910, before the United States entered the war, prices are now showing a tendency to advance. It is the first movement broad enough to be termed a rally for more than a year. Specialists in textile shares are experiencing a better inquiry for mill stocks than at any time within two years and actual sales are increasing."

Amoskeag has advanced 9 1-2 points in a comparatively short time. The recent low was 66 while the market closed last night at 75 1-2.

The local mills are in a much better position than any of the other textile industries. Practically all departments of the Amoskeag have been operating at least three days of each week while the Maine and Massachusetts plants have been shut down for weeks.

Considerable Amoskeag stock is being picked up by local persons who have followed the market and believe the textile shares are due for a further jump.

JUMP IN AMOSKEAG FORECASTS REVIVAL

Chicago, July 16.—Predictions that the wheat crop this season in Canada would be less than half of the yield in 1923 had much to do with a sensational advance of prices on the Chicago

By Radio and by Wire

go Board of Trade. Maximum gains of 5 cents a bushel were registered, with values shaded only a trifle at the finish.

Excitement among traders in the wheat pit attained a high pitch after word came that 50 percent damage from the Canadian drought had been forecast by a recognized expert on crop conditions, R. O. Cromwell, representing one of the largest grain houses here, made the statement. A report from him dated at Saskatoon, Sask., in the heart of the Canadian wheat country, said:

"Neither Winnipeg nor Chicago realizes the situation in Canada. It is the worst in 20 years. Even feed grain is near failure here. Superintendents of grain departments of railroads and other such people agree that the wheat crop will be only half of last year in the three provinces. This is in line with my ideas."

The ensuing scramble to buy was one of the liveliest that has been witnessed in Chicago in a long while. Notwithstanding a flood of sales to realize profits, notice meanwhile that Kansas City had received upward of 1,000 cars of new wheat today, more than double the amount a year ago, was without the least apparent influence as a check on the advance of prices.

Must Hang

Mrs. Kathryn Halsey of Hope, N. M., must hang for the murder of her husband, Fred Halsey, wealthy cattle man. Two male accomplices, Luther Foster and Claude B. Archer, must die with her. The death plot, in which the woman, according to testimony at her trial, played the leading role, dated back to the Christmas holidays last year, authorities said.

POLICE FIRE AT SUSPECTED RUM RUNNER

Salisbury Beach, July 17.—Chief of Police Congdon and Officers Fowler and True had an exciting and unsuccessful chase yesterday after an unknown boat, believed to have been a rum-runner in Newburyport harbor. After receiving a tip that a boat was due to land liquor on the Salisbury shore, the officers manned Officer True's motorboat and cruised about the harbor.

When near Newburyport bridge they located a large motorcraft, which was headed down the river. The men aboard refused to stop when hailed by Chief Congdon. The chief fired two shots in the air at which no attention was paid. Then he aimed at the boat but the distance was so great that apparently none of the bullets took effect. The big boat soon outdistanced the one in pursuit and passed out to sea.

It is believed by the police that when discovered the boat's cargo had been landed at some point on the Merrimack River.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES

Ted Shawn has written the local Chamber of Commerce the following interesting letter:

"Miss Doris Humphrey, who was the leading dancer with our supporting company last season and who is a teacher with Ruth St. Denis in our school, has been selected to take charge of the instruction given your local girls is for their appearance with Miss St. Denis and myself in your city."

"My own musical director, Mr. Horst, whom we consider the finest in his profession, will write the music and conduct the Boston Philharmonic orchestra for our performance at Portsmouth."

"Miss St. Denis sincerely hopes that many of your girls will take advantage of our training and enter into the affair with the same spirit that hundreds of girls from all over the country do who come to New York to train."

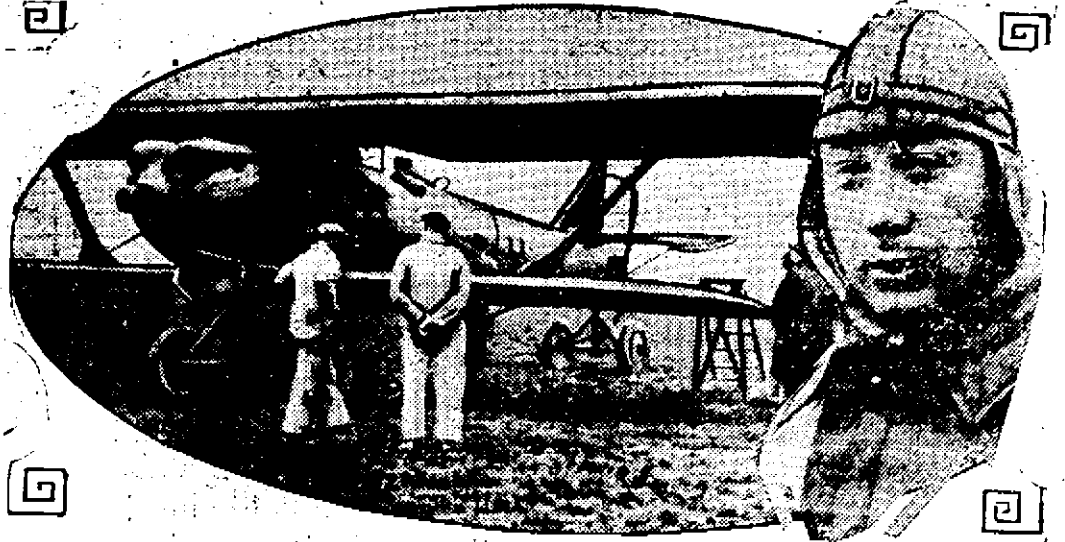

RETIRES AT OWN DESIRE

Washington, July 16.—Capt. Anton Heinen's contract with the Bureau of Aeronautics, Navy department, expired June 30. Early last spring Captain Heinen reported to Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the bureau, that he had an offer from a firm interested in the furtherance of airships for civil aviation and that he would like to accept the position when his contract with the navy expired. This is the real reason for the separation of the German expert pilot of the airship Shenandoah from naval aviation service. Captain Heinen volunteered to return to the navy any time his services might be required.

Orient Crash Puts Him Out of Race

Latest photo of Lieutenant Pelletier Doisy, France's "lone air wolf," and the plane which crashed at Shanghai at a time when he was within reaching distance of a remarkable air flight record to Japan. He is quoted in press dispatches as saying he is out of the race.

"Knowing you will have the finest open-air production in the country this summer."

"Sincerely,"
"TED SHAWN."

An inkling of one of the big scenes is contained in the first outline received by the local committee as follows:

When the company appears this season at the Pines the program will contain an entirely new Spanish number entitled "Cuadro Flamenco" which in addition to displaying the art of Miss St. Denis and Mr. Shawn will give an opportunity for the use of several elaborate Spanish shawls which Mr. Shawn brought especially from Spain last summer. The music themes which he also selected from native melodies have been arranged by Louis Horst. The action of the dance takes place on the day of the great bull fight and the scene is laid in a concert cafe hall in Seville.

The cafe life is beginning to become gay and the gitanas are mingling among the men. Lalanda, portrayed by Mr. Shawn, enters in full regalia and is persuaded to recount his afternoon's triumph at the Plaza de Toros. Then the Cuadro Flamenco starts the night's entertainment of singing and dancing.

La Macarena (Miss St. Denis) comes on for her number. Lalanda, at the close of La Macarena's dance, asks an answer to his suit. She tells him that if he will return with the most beautiful shawl in Spain she will marry him. He goes to the shawl merchant and returns with a collection of shawls. He offers them one by one and the last one wins her.

Then the entire assemblage celebrates their betrothal in true gypsy manner.

SEALS THREATEN LOSS TO SALMON FISHERS

Destruction of one-sixth to one-third of the average spring salmon pack in the Fraser river by hair seals, has caused Vancouver fishermen to fear the fish will become extinct and a large revenue be lost.

So clever are the seals that it is a race between them and the fishermen every time a bobbing cork on the net shows that a salmon has struck it. The seals generally win. Wolf-like, a seal goes for the throat of a fish, and usually a head is all that is left in the net. Fishermen have tried spreading a "blind" net to protect the actual fishing net, but the seals, evidently learning the trick, drive salmon into the net to make capture easier.

Not only do seals live on salmon, but when their hunger is appeased, they kill for sport, tossing the fish out of the water as a cat plays with a mouse. A seal can throw a 30-pound salmon clear of the water, the fishermen declare.

DAVIS CHOOSES CLEM SHAVER

New York, July 17.—Although John W. Davis, democratic nominee for president, returned to his home in Locust Valley yesterday afternoon without announcing his selection for chairman of the democratic national committee, it was learned that the selection had been made. Clem Shaver, a West Virginia, formerly chairman of the democratic state committee of that state and an active worker for Mr. Davis' nomination, both this year and in 1920, was reported to be the man chosen.

TOURIST SOUVENIR

Dame Fashion who, ever since the Indians relinquished their land, has smiled upon the red men, making their characteristic creations popular with the white brethren now is frowning upon the offerings of the dexterous.

Dr. W. F. Haggerty, superintendent of the Ojibway sales agency, says that the Indian's contributions to our collections such as beaded things, blankets, face handkerchiefs and miniature birchbark canoes, must be revolutionized to further capitalize the modern white man's passion for novelties.

The superintendent blames fashion alone for the complicated situation which the agency, promoted by the Episcopal diocese of Duluth, now is attempting to solve by teaching its Indian proteges that, to continue in the bloodless fight against the high cost of living, they must cater to the fantastic whims bestowed by custom upon their white neighbors.

In years past, according to Dr. Haggerty, the Indian, or rather his squaw, found a ready market for the waste paper baskets, work baskets, miniature canoes and other trinkets, which they made with their own hands. But now fashion decrees that it is no longer correct to have these curios in sight around the house, so sales have fallen to virtually nothing.

WHERE WOMEN FAR
OUTNUMBER MEN

The recent earthquake and volcanic eruptions in the Babuyan islands have brought forth statements from mariners who recently have been in that region, that a large portion of the population is composed of women. It is said this situation is due to the fact that so many of the men have lost their lives at sea.

The male population of the islands engage almost entirely in fishing as a means of livelihood, and the frequent typhoons which sweep over that region play havoc with their frail fishing craft. It is stated that on one island of the group, with a population of about 200, there are 15 women to one man.

The constabulary of Cagayan province have been ordered to ascertain the condition of the people of the Babuyans, and to furnish them supplies.

CANDIDATE DAVIS IS A PRESBYTERIAN

New York, July 14.—If John W. Davis is elected he will be the eighth Presbyterian president of the United States, and thus will bring the number of such presidents even with the number who have been communicants of the Protestant Episcopal church, the latter at present holding the palm with eight presidents.

Mrs. Davis is a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal church and Davis attends Sunday morning services with her in the Church of St. John of Lexington at Locust Valley, the rector of which is the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Hinton.

Few of the intimate friends of the Davises were happier at the outcome of the convention than Dr. Hinton. He sent Davis this telegram: "Sincere congratulations. I had faith that you would be nominated, and it is strong for your election."

Charles G. Dawes, Republican candidate for vice president, attends the First Congregational church in Evanston, Ill., of which the Rev. Dr. Hugh Elmer Brown is pastor. Mrs. Dawes is a member of this church.

President Coolidge united with the First Congregational church in Washington last October. He is the first Congregationalist president.

Warren G. Harding was the first Baptist president.

Besides Grover Cleveland, the Presbyterian presidents were: Jackson, Polk, Buchanan, Lincoln, Benjamin Harrison and Wilson. Abraham Lincoln did not unite with the church, but during the years he was in Washington he was a regular attendant at the New York avenue Presbyterian church. The Episcopal presidents were Washington, Madison, Monroe, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Pierce and Arthur.

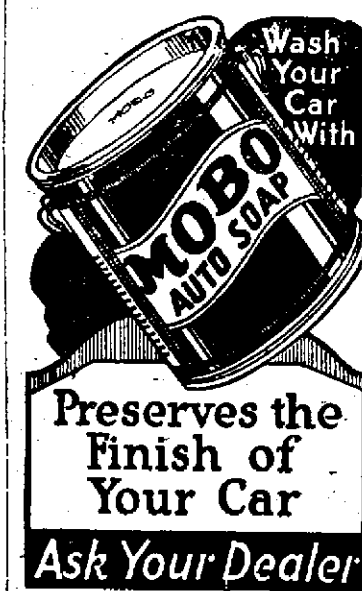

The Unitarians were John Adams, John Quincy Adams, Fillmore and Taft.

The Methodist presidents were Johnson, Grant, Hayes and McKinley.

Van Buren and Roosevelt were members of the Dutch Reformed church. Garfield was a member of the Church of the Disciples of Christ. Jefferson was a liberal.

A $179,221,000 Debt

The national debt of the four leading participants in the World War, according to the research department of a national banking institution, amounted to $179,221,000,000 at the close of 1923. This staggering sum is reduced to $73,000,000,000 when allowance is made for inflation as measured by the wholesale price index of each country.

The internal debt of France, according to the bank report, was $52,000,000,000 and the external debt $28,000,000,000 at the time the figures were compiled. Great Britain had an internal debt of $32,000,000,000 and an external debt of $6,000,000,000. The internal debt of Italy was $18,000,000,000 while the external debt was $19,000,000,000. The United States had no external debt and its internal debt was $21,916,000,000.

These figures make France's debt over 30 per cent of her total wealth, and England 35.71 per cent. Italy's total indebtedness is a fraction less than that of France, while the United States, on the firmest ground, owed only 631 of her total wealth. On a per capita basis Great Britain's debt was $531.89, France's 450.13, Italy's $163.55 and the United States $131.95.

The figures give a new angle on the cost of war, for the debts are largely the result of war expenditures. Is there any wonder Europe today is in a state of interminable chaos?

The Colonie Method

Colonie, the little upper New York state town near Albany, has, by an act of the New York legislature, lost its chief source of revenue.

The legislature recently enacted a law making it a violation for any community to maintain motorcycle policemen whose sole compensation is derived from fines from automobile law violators. The law likewise compels communities to turn a large part of the proceeds of fines over to the state. Automobile tourists who have taken the New York and New England trips know Colonie well. It is, or was, the most notorious speed trap in the country. The town's expenses were paid by automobile fines; the slightest infraction of speed laws brought severe pecuniary penalties—always pecuniary, for jail sentences could not be turned into cash. A town hall is said to have been built on the proceeds. The two motorcycle cops were paid according to arrests and proceeds from arrests.

Colonie is a town of genius, but only that questionable genius which goes with selfish natures. It lived on the prey of others. It was, and is, the town without a heart. It made little pretense of upholding law for law's sake. Law was just an instrument to its own ends. It will go down in history as the supreme manifestation of selfishness, a town all would be glad to avoid.

Railroad Maps

A traveler who has recently visited a city with a fine union railroad station wrote to a newspaper expressing her pleasure in the cleanliness, neatness and convenience enjoyed there. Then she made a constructive suggestion as follows:

"I find one fault, a fault with all union stations. There are no available maps that travelers can inspect to study out railroads, their directions and connections."

Railroad timetables and folders do not meet this need. As any traveler who has studied timetable maps knows, each railroad is its own geographical authority. It pulls towns about and straightens rivers and leaves out other railroads—naturally enough—and even omits crossing points. Such maps are only mildly helpful, and are of chief importance in whiling away a tedious journey by giving the traveler something with which to check off the weary miles.

The sort of map the letter writer wants is an accurate wall map of the United States, showing all important railroad lines clearly in different colors. Such a map should be large enough to be seen readily by more than one person at a time. It could be made a decorative and beautiful thing, increasing the artistic charm of the station—modern railroad stations are being built on the theory that beauty does not interfere with service—as well as its usefulness to the traveling public.

Exit Rodeo

British authorities have dismissed the charge against the American cowboys at Wembley on condition that the steer roping contest hereafter be excluded from the show. The incident generally is considered closed.

One of the interesting phases of the disapproval of the British spectators was the letter written the Manchester Guardian by a Britisher who purported to know all about life on the American plains. He alleged that he had spent many years there. But he condemns rodeos in general as not a show for "sportsmanlike people," and he particularly arraigns the "bull-ocks or oxen roping contests."

When American cowboys on this side of the water read of the "bullock" roping exhibition they will get as sound a laugh as the American baseball fans who read the Englishman's account of a baseball contest as a game played with "hand protectors resembling very much elephants' ears."

PROCTOR LEADS GOLF FIELD

The elements combined yesterday to make the qualifying round of the state championship at the Maplewood Country Club one of the toughest rounds ever played by golfers in this state. Many tried and true golfers failed to come through and they have a good alibi for not getting in the select group.

C. N. Proctor, son of last years champion, led the field while his champion Dad failed to qualify. His card showed 150. Larry Dowling of Manchester, formerly of Portsmouth, was next in line with a total of 155. Dr. J. D. Carty of this city came the nearest of any of the Portsmouth golfers to qualifying. He had a score of 173 for the 36 holes.

The following is the cards turned in by Portsmouth entries:

J. D. Carty—81-94-175

R. D. McDonough—89-89-178

I. A. Newick—90-90-180

B. M. Randall—92-90-182

H. N. Harding—99-103-202

At a meeting held last night R. D. McDonough of this city was re-elected secretary-treasurer and B. M. Randall was elected to the executive committee of the New Hampshire State Golf Association.

NEWS OF THE NAVY AND NAVY YARDS

Assists Navy Tug

The tug Mitchell Davis of the Piscataqua River Towing Company assisted the yard tug James Woolley in the shifting of several ships on the yard water front today.

To Try Speed Boat

The first of 35 foot speed boats building for the Coast Guard in the local yard will be given a trial in the harbor on Monday or Tuesday.

Not a Pet on the Ship

The U. S. S. Savannah is the first ship to reach the local yard for some time which some animal pets are not found among the crew. The last collection of the ship's zoo was three dogs Buddy, Toodles and Ka and a monkey Eva. Some members of the crew claimed that this combination were all blue ribbon animals and the same breed in Ringling Brothers had nothing on them in the trick line.

Will Speed Up the Work

The work on the remaining big submarines, V-1 and V-2, will likely be carried out much faster from now on owing to the number of men made available by the launching of the first V boat on Thursday.

On the Way With Coal

The steamship Norfolk sailed from Lambert's Point on Thursday night with 5,578 tons of coal for the supply department of the local yard.

Detachment from New London

A detachment of 15 men of various ratings in the service arrived on the Savannah on Thursday from the sub base at New London. These men will be placed on different ships of submarine division No. 11 to fill the places of experienced men who are to go to the V-1 at the local yard.

Before General Board

Rear Admiral M. M. Taylor of the control forces is appearing before the general board in the Navy department at Washington on the matter of submarine movements and submarine repair and construction.

Two Fast Boxers

If some of the local ring artists were to keep in trim and brush the cobwebs off their mitts, they can get in touch with the athletic officer of the U. S. S. Savannah. This ship has two good boys in Mason, a lightweight, and Cardinella, a bantamweight. The first named, battles at 135 pounds and the second at 118 or 120. They are known to be in the front row of the men of the control forces and have not been found wanting in any battle among the scrappers of the navy or civilians. According to their admirers about the ship they can make it very interesting for an opponent on land or on sea.

Two Dismantled

Workers at the Brooklyn yard have completed the dismantling of two war ships, which if completed were to have been named the Indiana and the South Dakota. The government appropriated $60,000,000 to build these vessels, of which $20,000,000 had been spent, before the Washington conference on the limitation of armament.

By cutting up the steel in the war vessels the government received between $75,000 and $100,000 more than if the ships had been sold to the highest bidders as they stood. The steel was bought by the Steel Scrap Co. of Philadelphia at $9.51 a ton.

CHRIST CHURCH HAS ANNUAL OUTING

Christ Church Sunday school and parish held its annual picnic on Wednesday at Rand's Grove, Jenness Beach. A special electric car left this city at 9:25 o'clock with the children of the Sunday school and a number of parishioners, while many others went down in the afternoon. All the children carried picnic lunches and dinner was enjoyed at tables in the grove, the society furnishing an appetizing fish chowder, coffee and milk for all. Games and sports occupied some of the time and bathing was enjoyed by many. The party returned home after five o'clock, the outing having been a success and the weather all that could be desired.

DAVIS GOES TO MAINE TONIGHT

John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for president, leaves New York tonight for Hallowell, Me., where he will pass a ten day's vacation. It was thought at first that Mr. Davis would travel over the eastern route on the Boston and Maine and would pass through this city, but he decided to take a sleeper right through from New York and will leave that city at 7 o'clock tonight on the State of Maine express. That train passes through Dover at 4:52 tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Philemon Mitchell Watson of Indianapolis, Mr. Davis' sister, left New York today for York Harbor where she will be the guest of Mrs. Elihu Chauncey of New York.

MRS. GARDNER PASSES AWAY

Boston, July 18.—Mrs. John L. Gardner, prominent society woman, died at 10:40 last night in her home at Fenway Court. She had been ill for more than a week and her recovery had been despaired of by physicians in attendance.

She lapsed into unconsciousness last Sunday, but rallied Tuesday and had rested comfortably until late yesterday. Then her condition took a turn for the worse and she sank gradually until the end came.

She was in her 86th year, and the widow of John L. Gardner, to whom she was married in 1860. She had one child, who died in infancy, and was left a widow on the death of her husband in December, 1898. She lived in Boston and Brookline during her entire married life, and had traveled extensively in all parts of the world. During her lifetime she was an important factor in the development of the arts in this community, and took a vivid interest in scores of young artists and musicians. She also was keenly interested in sport of every sort and was a leader in social life.

A REMINDER

Buy your Sunday's dinner at Paul's Market. Plenty of native veal. All cuts fresh and broiling chickens. Another lot of that real nice rolled chuck at 25c and 30c lb. A few fresh killed turkeys.

Large watermelons 50c each. Fresh cut lettuce 5c head. Plenty of green peas, native wax and green beans, spinach, beets, carrots, summer squash, in fact anything and everything you need for a nice Sunday's dinner. Just call or telephone PAUL'S MARKET.

WHY WOMEN LOOK SO AT 40

With dark circles under their eyes, hollow cheeks, drawn expressions, drooping shoulders, a lagging step, many women of forty have the appearance of women of sixty. In many cases this condition is caused by overwork or neglect of such warning symptoms, as headaches, backache, nervousness, displacements, and irregularities which indicate ailments peculiar to women. If all women so afflicted would only rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound it would restore them to a normal healthy condition, and the premature signs of age will soon disappear.

UNIQUE PLAN FOR STREET FAIR

A committee

A meeting of all the committees working for the street fair to be given under the auspices of the Portsmouth Council of Girl Scouts on Aug. 21, was held at the home of the chairman, Miss Frances Brooks, Court street, on Wednesday afternoon.

The natural beauty of Livermore street which has been chosen for the location of the street fair forms an admirable background for the unique affair that is planned.

Miss Mary Heffenger is in charge of the general decorative scheme and has planned to combine the Colonial with the Oriental, carrying out the idea of the old trade days when cargoes from all parts of the world were brought into Portsmouth.

Boats manned by sailors from foreign ports will be seen on the water at the foot of the street and their cargoes will at intervals be brought ashore to replenish the wares of the various booths and shops which will be arranged along the street.

The attendants at the booths and in the ten garden will appear in appropriate costumes, adding much to the interest of the scene, and many novel attractions have been planned for the entertainment of the patrons.

The names of the chairmen of the booths were announced at this meeting and are:

Girl Scout Booth—Mrs. Louis W. Ewald.

Tea Garden—Mrs. H. R. Childs.

Fancy Work and Housekeeping Articles—Mrs. Irving Stowe.

Cake and Candy—Mrs. Fred F. Hayes.

Lemonade and Ice Cream Cones—Mrs. Douglas E. Dismukes.

Flowers—Mrs. William M. Seabury.

Fruit and Vegetables—Mrs. C. T. Owens.

White Elephant—Mrs. Lawrence Hazzard.

Country Store—Miss Pauline Bradford.

Cigarettes—Mrs. Austin Kautz.

There will also be a toy and grab booth arranged in a way to attract the children, the chairman of this booth to be announced later.

The meeting on Wednesday afternoon was the last to be attended by all the committees. Each group will from now on meet separately at the call of the chairman of each booth, and in this way, the plans now made will be carried out.

The choir of the Aloysius French Catholic Church of Nashua held their annual outing at the Ocean House and Casino. There was a program of sports on the Casino oval. The committee in charge comprised Napoleon Sirola, chairman, Mrs. Edward Lubine, Julia Boivin, Stanley F. Noel, Joseph Cournoyer, Joseph Daucher and Rev. Fr. Richard, director of the choir.

SAYS TICKET IS "IMPOSSIBLE MESALLIANCE"

Laconia, July 18.—The democratic ticket, Davis and Bryan, was described as an "impossible mesalliance" here last night by Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, in a speech opening the republican campaign in New Hampshire.

"Judging from the usually accepted standard," said Senator Watson, "Davis is an ultra conservative, while Bryan is an extreme radical. Davis is safe and sound, while Bryan's mind is running over with fads and fancies. If they are elected will the dog wag the tail or the tail wag the dog? Is Bryan going to run on the same platform with Davis, or is each to run on his own platform. Is Davis to stand on the democratic platform in the east? Or are they simply going to run without reference to any platform?" Addresses were made by Senator George E. Moses and Major Frank Knox.

BREAKING LIGHT GLOBES

An epidemic of breaking electric light globes seems to be prevalent at Langdon Park and it is thought that these globes should be protected in some way. People residing in the section claim that after the lights are broken all sorts of disorderly conduct goes on.

GARAGE KNOCKED FOUR FEET

Sanford, Me., July 18.—When Harry

Henton's large Sedan started of its own accord, it made a bee line down hill for Warren Crummett's garage at the rear of his residence on Washington street, a small car had just been taken from the garage and the Sedan tried to get into its place. It struck the small building with such force that the garage was moved back four feet off its foundation. The sedan was slightly damaged.

NEW TEAM IN SUNSET LEAGUE

The U. S. S. Savannah team will make its first appearance at the play grounds tonight. The Savannah boys will take the place of the Camden which recently left port. There are a number of good ball players aboard the ship but they have had no opportunity to practice and will find it kind of tough to break into the league at this stage and get going right.

The Navy Yard Service team will meet the Savannah tonight. The Savannah will inherit fifth place from the Camden.

It is expected that after the Savannah team has been in port for a time they will have a snappy outfit. Many of the boys have appeared at the play grounds before and will be recognized by the fans.

TWO OUTINGS AT HAMPTON

Hampton Beach, July 18.—Two outings were held here yesterday. The national officers of the Jr. O. U. A. M. together with the Massachusetts state officers held a banquet at the Ashworth Hotel, Deputy National Councilors Rev. Ernest Sturtevant of Windsor, Vt., and F. A. Griffin of Haverhill, Mass., were special guests.

Following the banquet the officers adjourned to Cushing Hall, Salisbury, for a discussion of problems. The following were in charge of arrangements: Harry W. French, Vice Councilor John W. Cochran, A. O. MacCumbar and Jesse Robinson.

The choir of the Aloysius French Catholic Church of Nashua held their annual outing at the Ocean House and Casino. There was a program of sports on the Casino oval. The committee in charge comprised Napoleon Sirola, chairman, Mrs. Edward Lubine, Julia Boivin, Stanley F. Noel, Joseph Cournoyer, Joseph Daucher and Rev. Fr. Richard, director of the choir.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Torchlight Parade (From the Boston Herald)

The torchlight procession planned for the official notification ceremonies of General Dawes is a happy thought. The kerosene torches of forty years and sixty years ago gave a touch of brilliant color to the Lincoln campaign of 1860 and the Garfield campaign of 1880. Real candidates strove to outdo each other in the length of their illuminated parades, just as the candidates at Madison Square Garden made their demonstrations at Madison Square Garden as long and as noisy as possible.

For perhaps a decade, especially in the Mississippi Valley, the torchlight was a leading feature of a political campaign. On ahead marched the bearers of the canvas transparencies, after them came the band or the drum corps and then the long line of torchbearers, sometimes uniformed and drilled to military precision in marching. Every small town must have at least one torchlight procession, and the small boys usually managed to march proudly in the parades of the candidates of both parties.

The Prince of Wales, touring as Baron Renfrew, saw a torchlight parade of the Wide Awakes at Detroit in 1860, and New York honored his visit with a torchlight parade of the firemen of the city. In that spectacular campaign of 1860 every Lincoln rally must have its display of fence rails and its company of Wide Awakes. In Hartford the original organization of the Wide Awakes was effected in the state campaign of the Lincoln year. Every member must vote the ticket, drill, march, wear a glazed cap ar cape and carry a torch. The torch parade became popular at once as similar clubs were formed in all republican states.

After the war the country waited time for the revival of the torchlight bearing practice, and then through several campaigns the procession once more offered what frequently were pleasing spectacles to large crowds of cheering onlookers. Between now and August 19, when the vice presidential nominee is to have his notification at Evanston, there is time for the elaboration of plans to make a stirring affair, but this duplicate of a torchlight parade of 1860, with 25 kerosene torches in line, precisely duplicating those carried forty-four years ago, should be the most picturesque number in the program.

Sixty-five policemen roped off the district and followed out orders that no one was to leave the area or enter it pending new instructions.

NEWSY NOTES AROUND TOWN

The girls from Camp Beau Rivage attended the launching of the V-1 at the navy yard yesterday.

The hard thunder showers did not dampen the ardor of the hundreds who waited to see the giant undersea craft slip off the ways.

We wonder if the boats christened with champagne went off the ways any better before Mr. Volstead came upon the horizon? If the boat wasn't wet by pre-Volstead stuff old "Jup Pluvius" surely sent one of his samples that has been in stock for a long time.

The big craft slipped into the water as graceful as our Mermaids who are showing the European girls how to swim at the Olympic games.

With her bow way out of the water and her stern pretty well settled due to the weight of the machinery aft, the sub looked like a big power boat ready to start a race. When all the fixings are installed the boat will go down to the water line all around.

Many celebrities were on the grandstand from which Mrs. Snyder sent the V-1 on its maiden plunge. None of these people felt any more proud of the big fighter than the men who were grouped about in their overalls and working garb and who had helped to make this new ship for Uncle Sam.

Much credit is due the officials at the navy yard for the way in which they handled the large crowds that came to the yard for the event and the hospitality of the sailors and marines aboard the navy boats which brought the people to yard is praiseworthy.

Every town and city within a radius of a hundred miles had people here to see the big sub take the water. While the crowd was large the midnight aspect of the noon hour kept many from venturing out.

This boat is as big as the warships of twenty years ago. With a fleet of these boats in commission Uncle Sam will have the most up-to-date submarine navy in the world. Some idea of the immensity of the ship can be had when one considers that its crew will consist of 87 officers and men. This is about double the amount of men that are aboard the S-type boats.

The "Kiddies" will rejoice when they learn that the City Council has appropriated money enough to fix up the swimming tank at the playgrounds.

We haven't heard anything of record blueberry hauls yet. It is time for the huckleberry cutters to make their appearance. The rain should do a lot towards bringing their favorite fruit to a ripe stage.

Stores and residences all over town were all lighted up at nighttime yesterday. Even the "dark day" which some of the older people well remember was not near as dark as it was yesterday. Many people who were on the streets were nearly terrified. Two women ran in front of a Ford coupe on Middle street in an effort to get across the street. The lights were on in the Ford and the women seemed to be so frightened that they didn't see the machine. The driver of the machine had to drive up on the sidewalk in order not to hit them.

Day transformed into night at such short notice is not very pleasant, especially if one has nerves. Many people who are scared of a thunder storm got the thrill of their lives yesterday. It only lasted a few minutes but to some those minutes were eternity.

In Dover there were three storms before we had even a drop of rain. We have been missing most of the thunder storms this season but yesterday nighttime we didn't miss a thing. Lightning struck several places but it did only a negligible amount of damage.

AIR MAIL IS SUCCESSFUL

It is believed that business men and others with correspondents located west of Chicago are vitally interested in the Transcontinental Air Mail Service, under new schedule effective with the first of this month, when night flying was inaugurated, making continuous trips from coast to coast which reduces the time in transit of New England mail from 38 to 60 hours, according to location of the office. Mail to and from all points west of Chicago is advanced in proportion whether local or long distance.

The following table shows gain in time at a few New England cities:

Leave Boston—Air mail Monday, 10.40 p. m.; train mail, 11.00 p. m.; Arrive San Francisco: Air mail Wednesday, 5.45 p. m.; train mail, Saturday, 8.30 a. m.

Business men and others are saving thousands of dollars every day in interest on remittances alone and business is receiving a quickening impulse by the earlier delivery of securities, legal papers, orders and all classes of mail matter by the use of the Air Service.

Mail Service.
Planes now make regular flights every day in the year and rarely fail to reach destination on time. Chances of accidents have been largely eliminated so that losses are reduced to a minimum.

Postmasters at all offices in New England will gladly furnish patrons with time of closing, time mail is due rates of postage and any other information desired in regard to the Air Mail Service.

MUCH DAMAGE IN WAKE OF STORM

Several Killed and Heavy Property Loss Caused Throughout New England

Sweeping down from the Canadian border, a terrific storm of rain, hail, lightning and 75-mile winds raced through a part of Massachusetts and New Hampshire yesterday afternoon, causing several deaths and injury to many others and hundreds of thousands of dollars' damage to property.

Hailstones as large as golf balls wrought havoc to vegetable and fruit crops and shattered thousands of window panes. The hurricane-like wind in Massachusetts unroofed houses and factories and leveled trees and smokestacks. Cloudbursts flooded cellars and first floors, inundated city streets so that they were impassable and did great damage to roadbeds.

Fitchburg, July 18—Matthew Dzingas, 23, was killed in the storm here yesterday afternoon when a mill chimney was blown over and crashed through the roof burying him beneath it. Joseph Laventure, 14, of Kings Corners was drowned in Whalom Lake when his canoe was overturned. A large number of people were injured by flying wood, bricks and glass and most of the physicians of the city were kept busy during the afternoon treating them. Roofs of several mills were torn off and carried considerable distances and many other buildings were badly damaged.

Haverhill, Mass., July 18—Two storms yesterday two hours apart caused thousands of dollars damage to factories, dwelling houses, private residences and streets, partly crippled public service corporations, was responsible for two accidents and wrecked trees, poles, hay crops, flower gardens and garden truck plots.

Lawrence, Mass., July 18—Two trains, one going from Boston to Haverhill and one going in the opposite direction, narrowly escaped a serious accident near the North Andover station during the height of the second storm yesterday. At 12.50 lightning struck a tree and felled it across the railroad track. The Boston-bound train was due in three minutes and the Haverhill-bound train in seven minutes. Railroad employees ran down the tracks and halted both trains, using red lights. It was almost pitch dark and the darkness, coupled with the violently heavy rainfall, made it hard to see even the lights.

DEMOCRATS MEET AT NEWMARKET

100 Present.—Farrand and Sullivan Speak.—Elect Same Officers

About 100 Democrats from different parts of Rockingham County gathered at Newmarket on Thursday where a meeting was held in the Town Hall at which George A. Gilmore of Epping, president of the county association presided. Several women were among the assembly. George Farrand, vice chairman of the Democratic state committee was the principal speaker. Addresses were also made by John S. Sullivan, state Insurance Commissioner, President Gilmore, A. D. Holmer and H. F. Williams of Exeter.

Preliminary work for the campaign was mapped out for the various towns of the county. A committee was appointed to look into the matter of a clambake at the next meeting likely to be held in Portsmouth.

George A. Gilmore of Epping was re-elected president and Mrs. J. D. Sullivan of Portsmouth, secretary and treasurer. The local members who attended were Ex-Mayor Samuel T. Ladd, Samuel W. Emery, Joseph D. Sullivan, Edward F. Bickford, James Hickey, P. J. McWilliams, P. J. Reardon.

man, mother of six children, was raided Wednesday evening in search of liquor. The officers were successful in finding a small quantity of alcohol. This morning she faced Judge Ernest L. SOCIETY EVENTS AT NAVY YARD

The Commandant of the navy yard and Mrs. Douglas E. Dismukes entertained the launching party on Thursday with a delicious lunch served at the Commandant's quarters on the navy yard after the submarine V-1 was launched. Captain and Mrs. Dismukes greeted all with characteristic hospitality and Mrs. Dismukes was an ideal hostess, entertaining her guests with her usual grace and charm. The luncheon was enlivened by good cheer and sociability and proved a delightful feature of the day.

COURT WILL DECIDE ON MAINE BALLOTS

Augusta, Me., July 18.—In order to dispose of questions regarding the legality of certain ballots cast in the recent primary election arrangements have been made for the Supreme Court to convene next week. The court decision will be ready as soon as the recount is completed.

The so called home made ballots, particularly, may be subject for a court decision. The question has been raised as to how it will determine for whom the alleged fraudulent votes in Ward 4 of Portland were thrown.

Senator Ralph Brewster who was apparently defeated for the Republican nomination in the primary, has referred to that ward as the one "where the most flagrant frauds were committed."

MUCH INTERESTED IN LOCAL YARD

The Herald man had a delightful interview yesterday with Rear Admiral L. R. deSteiguer, formerly commandant of the local navy yard, and now in command of the First Naval district. The Portsmouth navy yard has no warmer supporter than Rear Admiral deSteiguer. It was through his insistency that the V-boats were laid down at the yard. He took occasion to speak of his tour of duty here and his great interest in the yard and the men.

PLEASANT VISIT FROM SEN. KEYES

Senator Henry W. Keyes and his son Henry, paid The Herald a very pleasant visit Thursday, motoring down from the Senator's farm at Haverhill. Elman Plays Wagner's "Album Leaf"—Mardones in Dual Role

The ethereal beauty of Wilhelmj's lovely arrangement of Wagner's "Album Leaf," a number set high in the violin range, is brought out in its perfection by Mische Elman in all its delicate tonal shades on a new record this week. Paired with it is "The Goodwife's Song," a number calling for all the subtle simplicity and naturalness of this master's bow.

Bass operatic arias are somewhat in the minority and it is fortunate that we are occasionally enabled to hear numbers of such beauty as José Mardones records this week. "Veni la mia vendetta" (Haste Thee, for Vengeance) is the tragic, yet melodious vow of Don Alfonso from "Lucrezia Borgia." The second number is from an opera bouffe little known outside of Italy—Do Ferrari's "Pipette." It is brilliant, varied, also melodious, like something from Rossini, this "Questa notte mentre a letto" (At Night While Sleeping).

More of Eddie Hunter's Woes

The sorrows of Eddie Hunter are nothing to weep over. He can put comedy into tribulation. Broke or afool of feminine temperament, it's all the same to Eddie, judging from "Hard Times" and "Mamie," his latest records.

This is the outdoor season for the Goldman Band and we hear this well-known organization as admiring thousands gather to do on a new record this week. "On the Mall" and "The Pioneer-March" are compositions of the leader, clean, brilliant brass band numbers.

A Quartet of Dances

Charles Dornberger and His Orchestra record a pair of fox trots that will hold interest in the dance wherever heard. "That's the Tune" is from "Vogues," the New Century Revue, a melodious number. "Tropical Palm" is a little dreamy and languorous, for the dog days. "Lovely Little Walkflower" which the Benson Orchestra of Chicago plays this week is a gentle and melodious fox trot. That doesn't half do it justice. "Worry'n' Blues" which Philip Spitalay and His Orchestra record, is comic and up to scratch.

Della Baker Sings Two Love Songs

The Lucy Stone League will approve these two numbers sung by Della Baker this week. They were composed by women and are recorded by a capable member of the sex. They have plenty of emotion and are neither commonplace nor obscure as to type. "Love's First Kiss" and "Out of the Dust to You" as here sung are really beautiful and full of appeal.

Elliott Shaw and Lewis James sing solos in similar vein. "Just for

NEW THOUGHT ALLIANCE MEETS

Buffalo, N. Y., July 18.—The 11th annual Congress of the International New Thought Alliance in session in Buffalo, N. Y., has brought the most celebrated New Thought healers from every state to this city for a period of ten days. The Sunday afternoon session was attended by over 1200 men and women who heard with interest and pleasure Arthur Nash's fine address on "The Golden Rule in Business." Arthur Nash is the Cincinnati millionaire who built up a business that runs into millions every year by following Golden Rule principles in every detail of his dealings with the public and with his 4,000 employees.

Mrs. Elizabeth Towne, International president, presided at the morning and afternoon sessions. She introduced Rev. Albert C. Grier of the Church of Truth, Spokane, Wash., who spoke on "The Acceptable Year of the Lord." James A. Edgerton of Washington D. C., who for 16 years was president of the Alliance and who gave a brief greeting preceding the blessing of the offering; Miss Eleanor Mel of the Home of Truth, Boston, whose topic was "When Shall We Raise Our Dead?"

G. Rupert Lesch, president of the Western New York district and general chairman of the Congress presided at the consecration session on Sunday evening, when W. I. Hoshouer of the Unity Fellowship of Chicago, Mrs. Ruth Smith of the Colorado College of Divine Science and Mrs. Towne, editor and founder of the Nihilus Magazine, were the speakers. The Buffalo chorus, under the direction of Mrs. F. D. Gardner, sang several numbers at each of the sessions. The soloists were Guy R. Lowe of Worcester, Mass., Edward H. Bruso,

Following the Sunday afternoon session, Mrs. Mary E. T. Chapin of the New York City Alliance Center conducted a healing service.

The delegates were welcomed to Buffalo at a delightful informal reception given in the grand ballroom of the Stagner on Saturday evening.

The field workers' forum conducted by Dr. Grier, was of especial value to all field workers. At the close of the morning business session Mrs. Towne submitted, among other proposals, for action at this Congress, the following: a new extension membership at $100 a year, the sustaining membership to remain at $10 a year, a "divine abundance" membership at $50 a year and a special blessing membership at $25 a year; that the executive board shall act as trustees of the Alliance Corporation; a special national service to New Thought Centers to be established at headquarters for the assistance of fieldworkers throughout the country; revision of the field workers' text book, the raising of requirements for new field secretaries, a mission foundation and a titling system, all funds to be handled by a board of four custodians, two men and two women, one to be elected each year to serve three years, a mission foundation for the extension of the work in new territory, investment of all surplus funds in conservative corporations doing business under the Golden Rule plan.

Field workers, secretaries and visitors from every state are in attendance at the meeting, which is the largest and most enthusiastic ever held under the auspices of this organization.

NEW ALIEN RULES HOLD BACK 75,000 BRITISH SUBJECTS

London, July 17.—The new American immigration regulations have become effective and 75,000 British subjects who had bought steamship tickets are unable to use them.

For weeks American consulates in the United Kingdom have been besieged by prospective immigrants who have cited their steamship tickets as sufficient reason that they be permitted to travel to the United States.

But the new method provides that those found eligible for admission to the United States will receive visa certificates, which, once granted, will assure the passengers of admission to the United States without detention at Ellis Island.

Only a sufficient number of visa certificates to absorb the quota will be granted. The quota for Great Britain and Ulster is 34,000, of which 10 per cent will be granted visa certificates monthly.

MANY CASUALTIES IN BRITISH INDIA

Delhi, British India, July 18.—Six persons were reported killed and more than 100 wounded in rioting between Mohammedans and Hindus. The disturbance was caused by what is described as the aggressive attitude of the Mohammedans who persisted in carrying cows for sacrifice through the prohibited area where the Hindus live.

The Mohammedans are declared to have entered the Hindu streets, breaking open and setting fire to the houses and desecrating idols. The military was called out with armored cars and forced to fire on the mob. There were no casualties from the fire. The casualties occurred in the street disturbances. Order was restored after four hours. Cavalry reinforced the police pickets.

The effective use of plaid material on plain is shown in this gown of black faille, trimmed with black and white. It is really nothing more than our standby this year, the coat dress, given a little extra fixings in the way of frills and bands. The bob-front and belted sleeves are feminine and engaging, looking and are much more becoming to many women than the severe finish of tailored gowns. The wrap-around skirt caught up at the side cannot be improved upon for comfort and is universally becoming.

ENGLAND RECOVERING FROM WARTIME SCARS

(By Associated Press)

London, July 18.—England's beautiful countryside is fast recovering from its wartime scars, made by the woodman's axe. The government's forestry commission in the last five years has replanted 22,000 acres in trees and other large areas have been seeded.

The government is encouraging private landowners to plant the little acorns from which the great oaks grow by granting three pounds for each acre by granting three pounds for each acre cleared of scrub for subsequent planting on condition that unemployed ex-service men be engaged for the work if possible.

DIVORCE COMES EASY IN TEXAS

If divorce hunters want to reach the happy hunting camp they should head for Texas. Mental cruelty is the favorite ground for the act. Examination of complaints shows that, in a large percentage of cases, this consists of using profane language. A Houston judge granted 120 divorces in one day. He pried very little into the private affairs of those who came before him, many of whom relied upon their former mate's proficiency of tongue. Texas law declares neither party in a divorce action may remarry within a year, but the framer of the law neglected to include a penalty. Immediate remarriages are common. With few exceptions, no Texas newspaper prints divorce news of any kind.

SHENANDOAH FOR NEWPORT FLEET

Newport, R. I., July 18.—Word was received here yesterday that the navy dirigible Shenandoah would arrive here by Aug. 1 to operate with the heavier than air craft based here with the scouting fleet. It will be the ship's first effort to operate with a fleet in scouting manoeuvres.

SEND PONY BY AIRPLANE

For the first time a pony was sent by air the other day from Paris to Rotterdam in an airplane of the French Air Union, with its master and two attendants. It arrived in Rotterdam in splendid condition and did not seem to have been affected by its voyage through the air. As soon as it stepped out of the airplane it calmly began to graze on the landing ground.

TRAFFIC RULES FOR AIRPLANES TO LESSEN CHANCE OF COLLISION

London, July 18.—Rules agreed on by the British, Belgian and Dutch governments to minimize risk of collision between aircraft, have been issued by the air ministry.

These provide that every pilot when flying on a compass course shall, whenever it is safe and practicable, fly on the right of the straight line adjoining the point of departure and point of arrival. When an aircraft is flying beneath cloud, it must keep at a fair distance below the cloud base in order to see and be seen.

When a pilot decides to follow a route which is officially recognized or consists of a line of ground marks, he should bear in mind that the risk of collision with another aircraft following in the same route is considerable. Every pilot who decides to cross any route he is following shall do so at right angles and as high as circumstances permit.

ACTOR SERVICE

RADIO OPENS ALASKA TO COMMERCIAL DEVELOPMENT

Juneau, Alaska, July 17.—Radio has taken the place of the missionary in opening up Alaska to commerce and, in the natural course of events, to permanent settlement. Today the territory is a vast practical radio laboratory. In proportion to the number of inhabitants, it has the most intensive radio development of all lands. It needs it. The radio seems to have been especially devised to fit the needs of such members of civilized society as have made their home in its widely scattered towns and villages.

For six months of the year many settlements are practically cut off from the rest of the world. Long-distance dog traveling is expensive and the accumulation of mail warrants few trips across the snow. But the icy blasts are no obstacle to the electromagnetic waves; the colder it is, the better the transit conditions for them.

Twenty years ago the Government laid a cable to Alaska from Seattle, Wash., and it is re-laying it at present. This is operated by the Army Signal Corps. Its main stops are at Ketchikan and Seward, while its branches extend to various coastal centers and to Fairbanks, the heart of the territory. For the greater part the radio stations operate in connection with the cable system, but a few stations, such as the naval station at Cordova, are powerful enough to communicate directly with the Government radio stations in the United States.

Besides the army and navy stations and a few maintained for purely experimental purposes by the Bureau of Education, there are about 100 privately owned stations. These are operated chiefly by the canning industry and are run only in the canning season. These stations do business only for themselves, and there is little prospect that they can ever be welded into a commercial system for permanent residents.

Government officials say that there

Saves Life for Every Feather

"Mary Jane" is one of Uncle Sam's little known heroes. An employee of the U. S. Bureau of Mines she has saved a life for every feather in her little body. She has been sent out on any number of mine disaster rescue jobs. When the bird begins to droop the rescuers know they are running into gas and are able to protect themselves. Just how many times "Mary Jane" has been brought out unconscious there is no record of.

is only one place in Alaska where a commercial concern would find it profitable to establish a station, and that is Fairbanks, the extremity of the cable-telegraph station. The army already has a station there. In its effort to encourage people to settle in Alaska, the Government is permitting its cable and its radio stations to be used for commercial purposes.

HOUSE FURNISHED BY SUBSTITUTIONS

In moving from small quarters to larger ones, especially where there is not a great deal of money to be spent, the problem of furnishings can often be solved by judicious arrangement, which calls upon every piece to do its utmost.

A fugitive from two rooms and a kitchenette in the city had purchased an old house in Connecticut, a house enclosing within white clapboards and green shutters, nine rooms and three large halls, besides cellar and attic. The question of furnishing was naturally acute. In the course of a year or so, however, the house took on an attractive appearance, modest acquisitions having been supplemented by a generous loan of furniture from a friend. Then one day it suddenly became necessary for the friend to remove her belongings. All over the house great yawning spaces gaped. The spirits of the housewife sank as she beheld her devastated abode.

Finally common sense came to the rescue. Two small rooms not much used, were summarily shut off. Hasty purchases and careful rearrangement resulted in a return of charm to the lower part of the house and a part of the bedroom floor. But, in the end one most necessary upper chamber stood absolutely vacant, except for an old straight-backed Colonial chair. The fugitive from the city surveyed the room with a sense of blankness, reasonably justified. No more money could at that time be put into furnishings, and there seemed to be nothing that could be spared to supply the room with comforts.

As a beginning, a despised but sturdy white bed, with its fittings, was brought down from the attic. Unobtrusively placed, and covered with a huge, soft-figured Indian-print hanging, bought a number of years before in Glasgow, the bed looked presentable, if not distinguished. A dressing table was built from a packing box, with a rounded shelf nailed to the top, and doused with inexpensive cretonne of which a curtain was also made for the closet door. Over the dressing table was hung a pleasing old mirror in a black round-topped plaster frame, reluctantly removed from the lower entry-way.

The one really good piece of furniture which could possibly be consigned to the room was a smallish old mahogany chest of drawers, which stood in "just exactly the right place," between two doors in the upper hall. This was ruthlessly dragged from its position and given the place of honor in the bedroom, opposite the door. Over it was put a small old mirror in a black japanned frame, bought from a colored cleaning woman for 50 cents. A nondescript closed washstand, painted gray, which had stood in the bathroom, was placed between the bed and the door, and forced to serve as a bedside table. A cedar chest, fitted against the foot of the bed, made a solid and roomy seat, when overlaid with a bit of old handwoven textile. Other seats were provided by the Colonial chair and a low characterless oak rocker painted black. Valanced curtains of 20-cent cheesecloth draped the windows. A good-sized rag rug was bought for $2 from an acquaintance in the next town, who was moving away; and another was flched from a room downstairs. A print or two, books, candlesticks, jugs of flowers and runners of coarse ecru linen with crocheted edges took away the barrenness of the room. Its simplicity was in keeping with the old house; and though far from elegant, the furnishings were adequate and inoffensive. The bedroom had somehow been supplied with the necessities at a negligible cost (almost literally nothing) by a process of shifting, when it had seemed that the last shift had been made.

The next thing was to fill the vacancies caused by the transfer of pieces. The place formerly occupied by the chest of drawers was filled, somewhat regretfully, it is true, with a low substantial typewriter table, painted black. This had been acquired for a trifle at a second-hand store, and relegated to a dim corner. Now, with a wide blue cover, which hid the defect of a missing drawer, it was an appropriate stand for an ancient gray pickle-jar, kept full of long-stemmed flowers or graceful branches. A framed picture decorated the wall of the lower entry-way, instead of the nice old looking glass. Odds and ends of old clothing about the house were converted into carpet rags and sent to a weaver, to replace the rugs transferred from below stairs. Carefully studied readjustments of ornaments atoned for the removal of a few to the upper chamber. The empty apartment had become friendly and liveable with little loss to the rest of the house. The seemingly impossible had been accomplished.

EX-KLAN KLAIFF SUES FOR HIS PAY

Baltimore, Md.—William E. Edwards, who claims to be former grand master klaff of the local division of the Ku Klux Klan, has filed suit in the Superior Court to recover $1000 from the Maryland realm of the order. Edwards, through his petition, filed by Attorney John W. Krebs, alleges that his salary as klaff was $50 week between October 27, 1923, and June 20, 1924. This, he claimed, and small amounts of money spent by him on the Klan, totaled $1,902.35 that the organization owed him.

Instead of receiving this amount, the former Klan chief declared, he received only $1,220.35. This, he alleges, left a balance of $582.50 still due him.

Edwards, according to his attorney, lives at 1913 North Charles street. It is said that the former Klan officer is a barber employed in a Maryland avenue shop.

His inability to agree with Frank Beal, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, was the cause of his resignation from his office of grand master klaff Edwards said.—Baltimore Sun.

BOSTON ENTERS SHIPPING DISPUTE

Washington, July 17.—Boston and other New England ports have joined with New York, Baltimore and North Atlantic seaboard cities in contesting the move of Charleston, S. C., and Jacksonville, Fla., to have set aside the differential in ocean freight rates, which is now in favor of the North Atlantic ports.

Business interests of Charleston and Jacksonville are making their contest in action against the Carolina Company, Trosdal, Plant and LaFonta and the Tampa Inter-Ocean Steamship Company. The New England ports ask permission, in their petition to intervene in the proceeding, which is before the Division of Regulation of the Shipping Board. Shipping Board officials said today that it would probably be several months before the case is heard.

The petitioners who ask the Shipping Board to co-operate with the Interstate Commerce Commission in the adjustment of port differentials and plead for a more favorable adjustment for New England ports than now obtains are the Maritime Association of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, the Fall River Chamber of Commerce, the New Bedford Board of Commerce, the New London Chamber of Commerce, the Portland Chamber of Commerce, and the Providence Chamber of Commerce.

The Baltimore Chamber of Commerce also intervened against the South Atlantic ports, alleging that the change in relationships of ocean rates sought by the South Atlantic ports would, if granted, be detrimental to the port of Baltimore.

In their petition, the New England interveners declared that the South Atlantic ports, together with the ports of Philadelphia and Baltimore, now enjoy export rates from points in the west and mid west which are lower than the corresponding export rates contemporaneously maintained to the New England ports. Boston and other New England ports were also said to be losing business on account of the higher rail rates to New England.

In brief the Boston contention is that Baltimore and other southern seaports have lower rail rates than Boston on export and import shipments to and from the great shipping territory of the middle west. This has been justified by Baltimore and the south on the grounds that they are geographically nearer the middle west than Boston and should, therefore have lower rates. But Boston is nearer Europe than either New York or Baltimore, but the rate to Europe from all of the cities is the same.

So that in intervening in the present case before the Shipping Board, Boston not only desires to contest the move of the South Atlantic ports for equality with the North Atlantic ports, but Boston desires to have removed what is claimed to be discrimination in favor of other North Atlantic ports.

HOLD NINE FOR U. S. DISTRICT COURT

Men Captured in Rum Raid at Cape Neddick Arraigned at Portland

The nine Gloucester men who were arrested at Cape Neddick early yesterday morning, following a sensational capture by Federal officers, headed by Henry Weaver of York, and assisted by members of the crew of the Coast Guard cutter Ossipee, during which a machine gun from the Ossipee was used, were arraigned in Portland before Commissioner Arthur Chapman yesterday afternoon and held for the grand jury of the September term of United States district court.

On the two charges of unlawful possession and unlawful transportation,

Albert Gowen, William McInnes, Joseph R. McPhee, Lewis France and Charles McPhee were held in $2000 each, while bail of $1000 was fixed for Alton Carr, John Peterson, Vincent Reardon and Thomas Powers. The last named are believed by officials to be helpers rather than partners. The nine men, who were brought to the Federal building in irons, waived examination and a hearing and pleaded not guilty.

The retail value of the liquor was estimated to be $30,000 and the lot included everything from the finest Scotch to wine from the best vineyards of France.

U. S. BEST CUSTOMER OF THE JAPANESE

The United States was by far Japan's best customer during 1923, and also sold Japan more goods than any other country, according to an official summary of last year's foreign trade published by the department of finance.

Near one-third, or 32.5 percent of all Japan's foreign trade for 1923 was with the United States. More than two-fifths, or 41.9 percent of all Japanese goods sold abroad went to America. More than a fourth of Japan's imports came from the United States, which sold Japan 25.7 percent of all she bought.

The total for foreign trade for 1923 was 2,430,000,000 yen. Exports totaled 1,448,000,000 yen, divided as follows: United States 606,000,000 yen; China, 272,000,000; India, 160,000,000; Great Britain, 40,000,000; Straits Settlements, 21,000,000; Philippine Islands 15,000,000; Germany 3,000,000; other countries not listed.

An interesting item in the import list is the purchases from Germany, indicating the strong return of German business men in the Japan market.

First Woman Governor

Here is Mrs. Soldad Chacon, first woman ever to serve as acting governor of any state in the Union, at the chief executive's desk in the governor's offices in the capitol at Santa Fe. BROTHER SHOTS CLAREMONT BOY

Claremont, July 18.—Raymond, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lennere of Unity lives at the point of death at the Claremont General hospital, another victim of the gun that was not loaded.

He was shot by his older brother, Levi, aged 15, yesterday afternoon, while the two boys were playing with an old revolver that they had found, and with which they were re-enacting a thrilling scene from a recent movie that the pair had witnessed.

CITY COUNCIL HAS BRIEF MEETING

Petition for Jitney Service from Ogunquit Received--$150 Appropriated for Repairs at Swimming Pool

The regular meeting of the City Council took place last night in the council chamber at City Hall. City Clerk Edward A. Weeks, Jr., read the minutes of the previous meeting and the work of the session was taken up. All the councilmen answered present to the roll call.

Mayor Dexter read a petition from James McCormick of York Beach in relation to running a jitney service from Ogunquit and York Beach to Portsmouth. On motion of Councilman Boynton it was included in the records and placed on file. The quarterly reports of the city marshal were accepted and placed on file.

Councilman Alley introduced a resolution that $150 should be appropriated from funds available to make repairs to the swimming tank at the playgrounds. The resolution was adopted on suspension of rules.

Council Gray, addressing the chair and pointing to the fact that the city solicitor was present, asked the city solicitor under whose jurisdiction complaints about the encumbrance of the sidewalks would come. City Solicitor Sullivan replied that there were city ordinances in regard to the matter and that it was the duty of the police department to see that all city ordinances are carried out. Councilman Gray went on to tell of many instances of the sidewalks being blocked.

He said that it is about time that some action was taken in the matter. Councilman Boynton moved that the matter be brought to the attention of the police department. Councilman Gray seconded the motion and it was made a vote.

Mayor Dexter read a report from City Solicitor Joseph D. Sullivan stating that he had written to the United States Shipping Board in regard to the purchase of land for a school at Atlantic Heights. On motion of Councilman Boynton it was included in the records and placed on file.

Dr. L. R. Hazard reported to the city council that the water in the well on Peirce Island is unfit for use, being contaminated with organic matter.

The auditor's report was read and accepted and on motion of Councilman Boynton the bills ordered paid. On motion of Councilman Boynton the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

WORLD FIERS MAY PASS OVER PORTSMOUTH

There is a possibility that Portsmouth people may see the U. S. Army, round the world fliers on or about Aug. 21st. The route calls for the famous aviators to leave Pictou, N. S. on August 21 and to arrive in Boston on that same day. In order to get to Boston they will have to pass over this vicinity. It is not definitely known whether the fliers will pass by this section out at sea or whether they will follow the coast. It is expected they will do the latter. The aviators will leave Boston for New York and Washington and will then start west to San Francisco, that being the starting and finishing point of the flight.

Portsmouth people will be on the look-out on August 21st for the fliers and chances are more than ever that they will go over this city.
